Civil action 07-2867 MDL 1850

Dear Sir:
I object to the subject settlement because I had entered into a class Action suit and I have no idea if they agreed to this settlement. I have tried to find out the particulars of this settlement through the telephone numbers given and no one can answer my questions.

I further fell that the criminal neglect that caused the death of my beloved Pet requires punitive action. I believe that this settlement is just a ploy by the principals to remove their liability and not an actual settlement of the class action suits. If this is in effect the final settlement and agreed to by all class action suits then I would liked to be advised of this.

James W. Keating
